

SOCIAL MEDIA INTEGRATION

The publishing landscape is ever evolving, and Multimed Inc. has continued to put itself and its publications at the forefront of current developments and trends. The present technological development being embraced by scholarly publishing is the use of social media. Recent studies have found it to be a practical tool to attract readers and authors, increase awareness of the journal and its findings, reach a broader pool of potential reviewers, build name recognition, and strengthen the identity of the journal.

Considering the vast potential that social media can provide, we would like to offer to you the following solutions for social media integration for your journal.

HOW WE CAN HELP

SETUP

The creation and continued maintenance of varied social media accounts may seem daunting. Multimed Inc. can assist with both the creation and integration of these new platforms into your existing website, and can also help with encouraging authors, editors, and reviewers to embrace these new systems. We can:

- Setup: Create and style preferred social media accounts including:
 - About text
 - Header and icon graphics
- Integration: Link social media accounts on your existing website and , include a social media feed, add a dedicated social media page with account information and policies.
- User Engagement: Update guidelines to include the importance of social media and encourage authors to provide tweetable abstract. Please see the an example in action here: https://journalcswb.ca/index.php/cswb/AuthorGuidelines#SocialMedia
